LEGENDARY GILL COLISEUM

The 10,400-seat house that Slats Gill Built is the house that Ralph Miller filled to the point of mandatory expansion.

Gill Coliseum, Home of the Beavers since the 1949-50 season, went through expansion in 1984 and major improvements on the court in 2001, giving Oregon State one of the most ideal facilities for the viewing of college basketball.

The site of the NCAA Western Regionals in 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1964, 1967 and 1983 (nine times total) was named after the late Slats Gill, head basketball coach at Oregon State for 36 years (1929-1964) and later the school's athletic director. The building is perfectly suited for basketball. It is not a fieldhouse. There are no posts obstructing vantage points and 85-percent of seating is along the sidelines. The fine wood floor was named at the conclusion of the 1984 remodeling phase after the equally legendary Ralph Miller, former OSU men's basketball coach.

Some of the original 14,000 seats removed during renovation, enabling Gill Coliseum to accommodate 10,400 fans and host many more events with additional meeting rooms behind collapsible theater seats on the arena floor.

The largest crowd to witness a game at Gill Coliseum arrived in 1962 to watch the Oregon State men defeat rival Oregon, 82-66. A crowd of 11,709 showed up that day, but fire marshal regulations prevent that figure from being surpassed unless additional expansion occurs.

The largest crowd for a women's game was 9,418 to watch Stanford defeat OSU 69-43 on January 20, 1996. While Oregon State men's and women's basketball serves as its main function, Gill Coliseum has also served as home to many other events. Performances by Tom Petty, Alabama, Huey Lewis, Garth Brooks, Bill Cosby and Jay Leno are just a few of the many functions that have taken place at the Coliseum. The Portland Trail Blazers schedule an exhibition game every other fall, conventions take place during the summer, and the NCAA championship-contending OSU women's gymnastics team competes before near-sellout crowds. The building has also been home of nine NCAA Western Regionals for basketball and two NCAA Championships for gymnastics. The OSU women's basketball team has hosted postseason Women's National Invitation Tournament games in Gill during four of the past six years.

OREGON STATE BASKETBALL HISTORY

Women's basketball at Oregon State actually got its start before organized competition began. The first women's game was played in 1898; the first men's contest in 1901.

That game bore little resemblance to modern day basketball, however. The court was divided into three zones, each containing two players from the two teams. The divisions included areas for guards, centers and forwards. A center jump was held after every basket and no one was allowed to leave their zone.

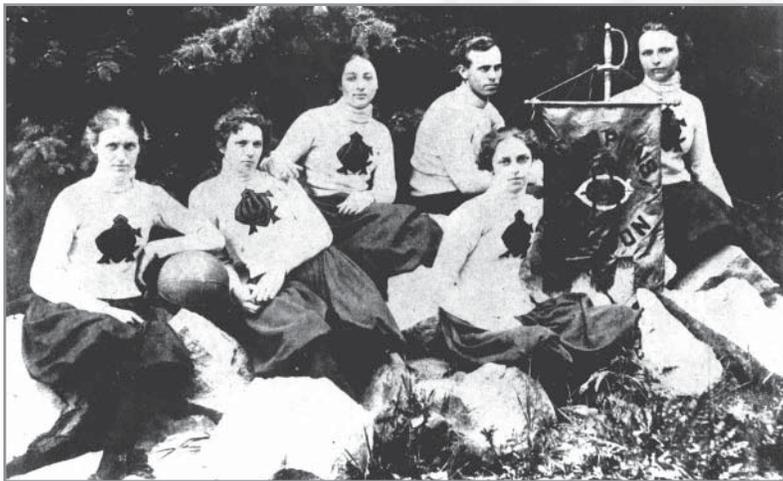

Scores were low in that era - in 1914, for example, Oregon State beat Oregon by a 10-8 score.

By the 1930's, there was a change in philosophy in women's sports. Competition, per se, was discouraged. On the other hand, mass participation via class instruction and intramurals was encouraged. That philosophy prevailed until the early 1970's although women's basketball was organized as an extramural and club sport in the late 1950's.

No school in the Northwest was quite as successful as Oregon State University. Competing against clubs from other schools, Oregon State teams went undefeated from 1959 to 1966.

Basketball became an intercollegiate sport for women in 1972, when the newly organized women's athletic department started competition as a charter member of the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). Teams competed in the Northwest College Women's Sports Association (NCWSA), Region 9 of the nine-division AIAW. Accurate records, however, were not kept in women's basketball until the 1976-77 season, when Mary Covington coached the Beavers.

The women's program joined the Pacific-10 Conference in the 1986-87 season and has remained a member ever since.

CAROL MENKEN-SCHAUDT

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, FIRST TEAM, 1981

Oregon State's first All-American, Carol Menken, earned three letters for the Beavers from 1979-81. A native of Jefferson, Oregon, Menken transferred to OSU after playing one season at Linn-Benton Community College. Menken was named Kodak All-America after leading her team to a 22-6 record her senior season. Menken led the nation in field goal shooting with an incredible .750 percentage. She holds career records at OSU for scoring (2,243), rebounding (901) and field goal percentage (.692), playing a total of 81 games. Menken also holds the school mark for single game scoring, with 51 points versus Alaska-Anchorage in the 1979-80 season. She shares the single game rebounding high of 20 boards with Brenda Arbuckle and Natalia Mattick. During her career at OSU, Menken was a three-time Northwest College Women's Sports Association All-Conference selection (1980-82). She went on to win the gold medal in the 1984 Olympic Games as a member of the U.S. team and played professionally overseas for several years. In 1988, Menken was named to the OSU Athletic Hall of Fame.

JUDY SPOELSTRA

JUDY SPOELSTRA

KODAK ALL-AMERICAN, SECOND TEAM, 1983

A native of Wenatchee, Washington and a transfer from Washington State University, Spoelstra held the single season (1983) assist record at Oregon State for 10 years and now ranks third with 173. For several years, she also ranked 10th on the all-time career chart for assists after playing just two seasons at OSU. Her 14 assists versus Santa Clara in the 1982-83 season stands second on the OSU single game assist chart. Spoelstra earned first-team NorPac All-Conference honors her senior season. In 1994, Spoelstra was named to OSU's Athletic Hall of Fame.

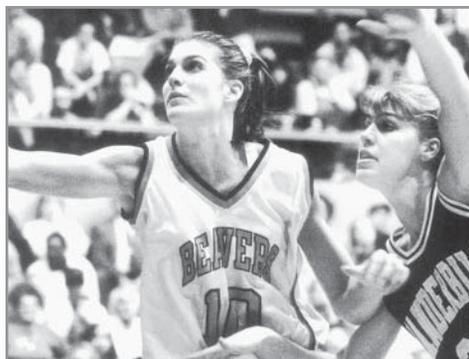

JULI COLEMAN
