DR. MARY BUDKE

Dr. Mary Budke is the most accomplished golfer in Oregon State history. She won the 1972 U.S. Women's Amateur championship and played on the victorious U.S. Curtis Cup team in 1974. In 2002, she was the team captain of the winning U.S. Curtis Cup squad.

She has also claimed eight Oregon Women's Amateur titles, a Pacific Northwest Golf Association Women's Amateur crown, two Western Junior Girls titles, two PNGA Junior Girls championships and three Oregon Junior Girls titles.

Dr. Budke has been inducted into several Halls of Fame, including OSU Athletics, the State of Oregon, the Pacific Northwest Golf Association and the National Golf Coaches Association's players list.

At OSU, she won the 1974 AIAW national individual championship and placed third at the team event with current OSU Coach Risë Lakowske. In 1973, she won the Hayward Award, given to the top amateur athlete in the state of Oregon.

After completing her OSU career in 1975, instead of turning professional, she chose to go to medical school and now works as an emergency room physician at Sacred Heart Medical Center in Eugene.

Dr. Budke still competes in various amateur events.
